Noon Conferences

- 12:00-1:00pm, in Private 300 Conference Room
- This is for a housestaff audience, approximately 30-40, with some attendings joining as well. Lectures are grouped by topics to facilitate reading and learning. Lunch is served first, for the speaker and housestaff, and then a 50-minute subspecialty conference starts at approximately 12:05 pm.
- Contact: Kathy Contois (203) 789-3202

Lectures for a Section/Division need to be kept in the monthly time block allotted to that Section/Division, if possible. Both speaker and topic choices are very important to us. Topics are selected annually from a curriculum designed to cover three years, which we want to adhere to; however, in some instances, we would prefer the speaker to the topic. Please discuss any proposed changes with us. Further information and room location will be sent prior to scheduled date.

The St. Raphael Campus has the facility to conduct mini-quizzes for residents using an electronic audience response system (ARS). The faculty are encouraged to use this to test the resident's knowledge and to underscore key points during the lecture. Please discuss this with Kathy Contois at (203) 789-3202 prior to your talk.

"Professor in Action" – A senior resident presents an unknown case in the attending's subspecialty area and the attending's thought process instructionally demonstrates how to evaluate and approach patients with that disease entity. Emphasizes how to think about problems in an organized and rational way.
